

NAPPANEE, IN - What began as a downtown clothes line art show 55 years ago has grown into one of the top arts and crafts festivals in the nation as it celebrates its emerald anniversary. The year and number 55 are both significant; in 55 BC Rome built Pompey's Theater and in 55 AD the apostle Paul wrote his first epistle to the Corinthians. In numerology 55 is a master number that rises to a higher spiritual plane than single digit numbers. It resonates with the seed of innovation and the freedom of new paths, both spot on descriptive of the artists and craftsmen who have made the trek to Nappanee for five and a half decades to bring their art and inspiration to the festival's admiring throng.

◆ The event brings to this northern Indiana historic farm a marketplace filled with the creations of artists and artisans from every corner of the country with nearly 300 juried artists/crafters from nearly 150 cities and 27 states. Visitors from across the state and beyond numbering almost 60,000 visitors, many representing third generations, descend on the farm annually for the celebration, which includes entertainment on four stages throughout the day, strolling musicians, barbershop quartets, folk singers, bluegrass music, and more. Live Broadway musical theatre in repertory, Plain & Fancy and Guys and Dolls will be performed on the Joseph Stein Stage in The Round Barn Theatre for a combined total of six performances. Festive food will be served including pulled-pork, soft-serve ice cream, fried vegetables, donkey ears, and more.

◆ $5,000 in Artist Cash Prizes and $2,000 in Amish Acres Products and Attractions to be given away to festival visitors will total $7,000 in prizes throughout the four days. Visitors may also register to win the handmade Smid Log Cabin Quilt that will be given away on New Year's Eve. The quilt was made in honor of the 1854 Smid Log Cabin that was home to the only Mennonites who migrated from the Netherlands to the United States and now serves as the Amish Acres Soda Shop & Fudgery.

◆ Judging for the winners of $5,000 in cash prizes has moved from within a competition tent into the marketplace. The judges will systematically search through the booths in each aisle, interacting with the exhibitors, while seeking the best of the best in six categories. Winner's ribbons, including the two $1,000 purchase prizes, will be presented to the winning artists and craftsmen to proudly display in their booths throughout the festival. For the first time visitors will have the opportunity to view the winners in the context of each artist's and craftsmen's body of work. Drawings for visitor giveaways include theatre and overnight getaway packages; wagon rides; guided tours; and The Best of Show collection is on permanent display in the Arts & Crafts Best of Show Blue Ribbon Museum located in the Barn Loft Wine Room of Amish Acres Restaurant.

◆ The fourth generation of the founding family is now involved in the festival's planning and production. Richard Pletcher, founder of the festival and Amish Acres, remains CEO and Jennifer Pletcher Wysong is the festival director. The event started as a clothes line show in downtown Nappanee during sidewalk days in 1962. Amish Acres was created and grew out of the demand from the early festival's visitors for Amish related experiences and products.

◆ Hall of Fame Inductee Mary Stipanovich of Chesterton, Indiana is being posthumously inducted into the Amish Acres Arts and Crafts Festival Hall of Fame during the 2017 Festival. She becomes the 47th inductee since the hall was created in 1996. Mary exhibited in the first festival 55 years ago in downtown Nappanee and moved with the festival to Amish Acres in 1971. Mary became a close friend and patron to fellow exhibitor Emma Shrock, an Old Order Mennonite woman who was born handicapped and spent her life in a wheel chair. With Mary's friendship, support and encouragement Emma became a prolific folk artist, producing her first painting at age 40 and painting a new work every day to make a living. Today she is known as the "Grandma Moses" of Elkhart County and her works are avidly collected and hang in permanent museum galleries.

◆ Dori Crane Best of Show Purchase Prize. Beginning with this year's Arts & Crafts Festival's awards, the two dimensional purchase prize will be known as the Dori Crane Best of Show Prize. Mrs. Crane, who passed away July 2, 2017, was in 2012 inducted into the festival's hall of fame on its 50th anniversary year. In 1962 when the first Pletcher's Village Art show began as a sidewalk art display, founder Richard Pletcher approached Dori Crane who was teaching art classes in the park to assist in finding art works to display on clothes lines strung in front of Pletcher Furniture Village. "Without Dori's expertise to kick start the event, the arts & crafts festival would never have been possible," said founder Richard Pletcher, "She envisioned the event's format that is still followed today."
